Intent of our curriculum

Curriculum design

We know that language and literacy are fundamental to the overall development of our children and their access to the curriculum.

We aim to deliver quality teaching of basic and higher order reading, writing, speaking and listening skills to enable our children to become confident and successful in their literacy.

We want children to be able to talk about what they have learned in a knowledgeable and articulate way, using their 'public voice'.

We use a variety of teaching and learning styles to teach literacy skills. We aim to develop children's ability to listen, speak, read and write for a wide range of purposes, including the communication of their ideas, views and feelings. We do this through daily lessons in which children experience whole-class reading or writing activities, guided group or independent activities, and whole-class sessions to review and assess progress and learning.

In all classes, children have a wide range of abilities, and we seek to provide suitable learning opportunities for all children by matching the challenge of the task to the ability of the child. We achieve this through a range of strategies. In some lessons, we do it through differentiated group work, while in others we ask children to work from the same starting point before moving on to develop their own ideas. We use support staff to support some children and to enable work to be matched to the needs of individuals.

We aim

- to encourage children to listen with concentration, in order to identify the main points of what they have heard.
- to show children how to adapt their speech to a wide range of circumstances and demands.
- to teach children effective communication, both verbal and non-verbal, through a variety of drama activities.
- for pupils to understand the sound and spelling system and use this to read and spell accurately
- for pupils to be able to read and write with confidence, fluency and understanding, enabling children to communicate effectively.
- for pupils to know, understand and be able to write in a range of genres in fiction, non-fiction and poetry
- for pupils to be interested in books, read with enjoyment, and evaluate and justify their preferences.
- for pupils to develop fluent and legible handwriting.

Implementation of our curriculum

Teaching oracy skills

The promotion of good oracy skills is a priority for our children. In order to have agency in the world they need to develop a 'public voice'

We want our children to be able to talk about what they have learned in a knowledgeable and articulate way, using their 'public voice'.

We promote the development of good oracy skills in our pupils through explicitly teaching children the difference between 'personal voice' and 'public voice'.

Personal voice- the voice that we use to speak to people who know us well, like our friends and family. These people have heard us speak many times; they understand us easily.

Public voice- the voice that we use to speak in front of an audience. When we use our 'public voice', we think about our oracy skills to make sure that people can hear us and understand what we are saying.

Public voice steps to success:

- Speak clearly
- Speak loudly
- Speak slowly
- Look at the audience
- Stand/sit up straight

Strategies to teach reading skills

Reception and KS1

- Children take part in daily Phonics lessons. Teachers regularly assess children and group them according to attainment (using Read Write Inc. assessments). Children are taught phonic sounds and read phonic-based books at the appropriate level of difficulty.
- Children take part in daily Reading Practice lessons, using phonic-based books (Read Write Inc. guided reading books), with an adult leading each group.
- Children are taught reading skills and exposed to a variety of different text types as part of daily English lessons.
- All classes have daily 'Story Time' sessions where the teacher reads a story aloud to the class, modelling reading with expression and enjoyment, helping to foster a love of reading. Children are exposed to a wide range of genres and authors, which helps further develop comprehension skills through exposure to rich language and vocabulary. It also helps children to develop their own reading preferences.
- Selected children working below expected standards for reading take part in 1:1 reading session using the 10 minutes a day reading programme.

Year 2 children who are proficient at phonics (completed Grey level of phonic-based books)

Children have only completed our phonics programme once they have read all Grey level phonic-based books.

Reading all the Grey level phonic-based books helps children to develop fluency, as it allows them to practise decoding challenging words that contain Set 3 graphemes. (See Reception and KS1 progression in reading). Repeated practise ensures that this phonic knowledge enters long term memory and this allows children to apply this knowledge to unseen texts.

Strategies to teach reading-Y2

- In order to continue to develop fluency, following completing all of the Grey level phonic-based books, children move onto reading 'Silver' colour-banded guided reading books (PM Benchmark levels).
- Children continue reading colour-banded guided reading books until they have become fluent readers (Silver>Emerald>Ruby> Sapphire). Teachers use PM Benchmark Tool Kits to assess reading levels.
- Children take part in daily Reading Practice lessons using colour-banded guided reading books (Silver, Emerald, Ruby, Sapphire levels only)- See end of year expected standards for reading.
- Once children have completed Phonics lessons using phonic-based books up to the end of Grey level, they further develop their fluency and comprehension skills using Read Write Inc. Comprehension resources.

Y2 Summer Term Pupil Progress Checkpoint

During the Summer Term Pupil Progress Checkpoint meeting, senior leaders discuss with Y2 teachers the pupils that are proficient at phonics (Expected Standard in reading).

In Y3, all pupils that met the expected standard for reading at the end of Y2 continue to take home colour-banded books until they have shown that they are fluent at reading and comprehending Sapphire level colour-banded books. Teachers assess this using the PM Benchmark Toolkit.

Once children have demonstrated fluency at reading and comprehending Sapphire level books, they move onto selecting chapter books from the class library under the guidance of a teacher.

Children who have met expected standard for reading by the end of Year 2

During the Y2 Summer Term Pupil Progress Checkpoint meeting, Y2 teachers and senior leaders discuss those pupils who are not yet proficient at phonics.

Options for those pupils not yet proficient at phonics:

1. In Y3, Children continue to read phonic-based books (Read, Write Inc, story books and guided reading books) as part of their home reading until they have completed all books up to the end of Grey level. These pupils still take part in whole class KS2 Reading lessons.

OR

2. In Y3, children continue to take part in phonics lessons as an intervention with the teaching assistant during KS2 Reading lessons. Children take home the phonic-based books (Read, Write Inc. books) that they have read within their intervention. (These children are likely to be working Below Expected Standard and have Special Educational Needs)

KS2

- In KS2, children take part in whole class KS2 Reading lessons every day with a focus on developing more complex comprehension skills and further developing reading fluency.
- Children are taught reading skills and exposed to a variety of different text types as part of daily English lessons.
- All classes have daily 'Story Time' sessions where the teacher reads a story aloud to the class, modelling reading with expression and enjoyment, helping to foster a love of reading. Children are exposed to a wide range of genres and authors, which helps to further develop their own reading preferences.
- Children continue reading colour-banded books as home readers until they have become fluent readers (Silver>Emerald>Ruby> Sapphire). Teachers use PM Benchmark Tool Kits to assess reading levels.
- Fluent readers select appropriate reading material from the class library under the guidance of a teacher. Teachers use 'Reading assessment statements' for their year group to assess reading levels.

Reading resources

KS1

- Read Write Inc. Storybooks (See Reception and KS1 progression in reading)
- Read Write Inc. Storybook book bag books- these are paper copies of the storybooks read in phonics lessons. (See Reception and KS1 progression in reading)
- Read Write Inc. Guided Reading books (See Reception and KS1 progression in reading)
- Colour-banded guided reading books (Silver, Emerald, Ruby, Sapphire (see end of year expected standards for reading YR-Y6))
- Read Write Inc Comprehension Resources (for Y2 children who have completed phonic-based books up to the end of 'grey')
- Sharing books in class libraries (a range of fiction and non-fiction texts)

KS2

- KS2 Reading lesson texts.
- Read Write Inc. Storybooks (for children who have not completed phonic-based books up to the end of Grey level- see Reception and KS1 progression in reading)
- Read Write Inc. Storybook book bag books (for children who have not completed phonic-based books up to the end of Grey level- see Reception and KS1 progression in reading)
- Colour-banded home reader books (Silver, Emerald, Ruby, Sapphire (see end of year expected standards for reading YR-Y6))
- Chapter books in class libraries
- Sharing books in class libraries (a range of fiction and non-fiction texts)
- KS2 decodable books (for KS2 SEN pupils working at phonics-book reading levels, where the SENDCo decides these books would be more appropriate. KS2 decodable books are kept in AHT/SENDCo's office)

Teaching reading through phonics

We use daily Phonics lessons and phonic-based books as the tool to help children become fluent readers. Phonics lessons teach children to read accurately and fluently with good comprehension.

- Throughout phonics lessons, children learn the English alphabetic code: the 150+ graphemes that represent 44 speech sounds.
- Children learn the English alphabetic code: first they learn one way to read the 40+ sounds and blend these sounds into words, then learn to read the same sounds with alternative graphemes.
- They experience success from the very beginning. Phonics books are closely matched to children's increasing knowledge of phonics and 'tricky' words and, as children re-read the stories, their fluency increases.
- Children are helped to read with a storyteller's voice through adult modelling of reading.
- Ongoing assessment means that groups are adjusted to ensure the best progress for each child.

Teaching phonics (Reception, Y1, Y2)

In order to become fluent readers, Reception children, Year 1 and Year 2 all take part in daily Phonics lessons. Children are grouped according to attainment and each group is taught by an adult. Each child reads books that match their phonic knowledge. Ongoing assessment means that groups are constantly adjusted to ensure the best progress for each child.

Phonics assessment

Reception

- At the start of the Autumn term, Reception children complete 4 weeks of 'speed sounds' phonics lessons as a whole class.
- Before these lessons start, children are assessed by the English leader or class teacher using the RWI Entry Assessment.
- At week five, the children are re-assessed using RWI Assessment 1 and grouped according to attainment.
- Once children are assigned groups, they are taught phonics lessons using phonic-based books within these groups.
- Children are re-assessed at every half term (using RW1 Assessment 1, 2, 3) and re-grouped as necessary.

Y1-Y2 children

- During the first week of the Autumn Term, all children are assessed by the English Leader or class teacher using Assessment 1.
- Children are taught Speed Sounds lessons as a whole class during this week before being grouped according to their ability following assessment.
- Children are assessed, and regrouped if necessary, every half term (using Assessment 1, 2 and 3).

Phonics lessons

After children have been grouped (using RWI assessments), teachers use the Phonics Weekly Structure document to teach daily 45-minute phonics lessons.

Phonics lessons are focused on the teaching and reviewing of sounds and the application of phonic knowledge to phonic-based books. Every week children are provided with a phonic-based book, which matches the sounds that they have been taught. Children read each storybook at least 3 times. On the first read, children focus on accurate word reading; the second, on developing fluency; and the third, comprehension. Fluency and comprehension increase with each repeated reading.

All Phonics lessons are comprised of the following elements:

- Daily Speed Sounds - children are taught and review phonics sounds. Sounds are taught in sets- Set 1, Set 2 and Set 3.
- Story Green Words- all phonic-based storybooks contain decodable Story Green words. These are taught/read in advance of reading the story.
- Speedy Green Words- high frequency words. These words are always taught first by sound-blending. Children then practise reading the words at speed so they can read the stories without sounding out each word.
- Red words- common words with a low-frequency grapheme e.g. said: the sound 'e' is written with the grapheme 'ai'.
- Fred Fingers- children say the sounds as they press the sounds onto their fingers.
- Fred in your head - children say the sounds in their head.
- Fred Talk- Fred (the teacher) says the sounds and the children say the word.
- Partner practice- to help children read the Speedy Green Words and Red Words without using Fred Talk.
- Ditty/Story introduction- read by the teacher. The introduction draws the children into the story, explains the plot and provides background knowledge to help children comprehend the story.
- First read-children- children focus on reading the words rather than thinking about the story. Children point to the words as they read.
- Read Aloud-Teacher- teacher models reading with fluency and expression.
- Jump in- Children follow the text with their finger as the teacher reads aloud. Children 'jump in' and say the word when the teacher hesitates.
- Second read- children- children read the story more speedily, without using Fred Talk.
- Third/fourth read-children- children read the story with intonation that shows their understanding of the story. Children no longer point to the words as this prevents them from reading with fluency.

- Questions to talk about- children find answers to questions in the story, demonstrating comprehension of the text.
- Questions to read and answer- written in words that the children can decode. They require children to choose the correct answer, complete a sentence or discuss.
- Complete a sentence- children use their sounds to write missing words in a sentence
- Hold a sentence- children 'hold' a sentence in their heads before writing it with correct spelling and punctuation.
- Build a sentence- children compose a sentence orally
- Handwriting practice- children are taught handwriting in three stages using Read Write Inc. handwriting guidance.

What happens when children have read all phonic-based books (up to the end of Grey level)?

- Once children are proficient at phonics (read all phonic-based books up to the end of Grey level), they are taught comprehension skills using Read Write Inc. Comprehension resources.

Reading Practice lessons- Reception-Y2 (using Read Write Inc. Phonics books)

In order for pupils to practise what they have been taught in Phonics lessons, they are provided with additional opportunities to read books that are matched to their phonic knowledge.

In daily Reading Practice lessons, children in Reception-Y2, who are accessing Phonics lessons (levels Red to Grey), practise their reading and comprehension skills through reading texts which match the phonic sounds that they have been learning in their phonics lessons that week.

The 'Reception and KS1 progression in reading - list of Read, Write Inc. phonics books' shows the Read Write Inc. guided reading books that children read within guided reading lessons. These texts are matched to the storybooks that the children read in phonics lessons and the particular sounds that have been taught that week.

Structure of daily Reading Practice lessons (30 minutes)

During Reading Practice, children read books at the same colour level as the storybooks read in Phonics lessons- see Reception and KS1 progression in reading - list of Read, Write Inc. phonics books'.

Children are grouped according to attainment and each group reads with an adult for the whole lesson. Children keep the same Reading Practice book for the week. On the first read, children focus on accurate word reading; the second, on developing fluency; and the remaining, on comprehension. Fluency and comprehension increase with each repeated reading. This book also goes home with the child at the end of the week.

Children who are proficient at phonics in Y2

- Children are taught guided reading using colour- banded guided reading books (Silver>Emerald>Ruby>Sapphire).
- Children are grouped according to reading attainment (assessed using PM Benchmark Toolkit)
- Children read in a small group with an adult
- Children keep the same book for the week
- Children take the book home as part of home reading arrangements

Teaching reading in KS2

KS2 Reading lessons Y3-Y6

KS2 Reading lessons focus on:

- Key reading strategies which support comprehension.
- Learning behaviours which support dialogue.
- Improving reading fluency

The class teacher uses high-quality class texts (see curriculum map) to teach the children different reading strategies. The children are initially taught one strategy at a time. Reading strategies are combined once the children have a secure understanding of each of them.

The reading strategies

1. Predicting
2. Inferring
3. Clarifying
4. Asking questions
5. Evaluating
6. Making connections
7. Summarising

Learning behaviours

1. Support and actively listen to others
2. Discuss and explain our ideas
3. Take responsibility for our own/partner's learning

Weekly structure of KS2 reading lessons

There are three different types of KS2 reading lesson:

1. reading strategies lesson
2. reading comprehension lesson
3. reading fluency lesson

| | Monday | Tuesday | Wednesday | Thursday | Friday |
|--------|------------------------|---|--|---|----------------------|
| Year 3 | Reading fluency lesson | Reading strategies lesson | Reading strategies lesson | Reading strategies lesson + pupil written response using strategy prompt card sentence stems | Comprehension lesson |
| Year 4 | Reading fluency lesson | Reading strategies lesson (partner reading) | Reading strategies lesson (partner reading) + vocabulary practice question | Reading strategies lesson (individual reading) + pupil written response using strategy prompt card sentence stems | Comprehension lesson |

| Year 6 | Reading fluency lesson | Reading strategies lesson (partner reading) + vocabulary practice question | Reading strategies lesson (individual reading) + pupil written response using strategy prompt card sentence stems | Reading strategies lesson (individual reading) + multiple choice practice question | Comprehension lesson |

Structure of a KS2 reading strategies lesson (30 minutes)

|---|---|
| Modelling and Guided Practice (10 minutes) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Quick recap of learning behaviours (30 seconds once they've been learnt) • Revise strategies (refer to sentence stems on Reading strategy prompt) • Retrieval practice of taught vocabulary • Teach new vocabulary • Model combining strategies through 'think alouds' with text displayed under the visualiser • Mixed attainment partners practise reading and using the strategies |
| Independent Practice (25 minutes) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Individual or partner reading with children selecting appropriate strategies to use. • With individual reading, children use sentence stems to discuss strategies used after finishing individual reading. (teacher sets a timer for how long they want children to read individually for) • With partner reading, children take turns to read aloud and use sentence stems to discuss strategies used after each section. • Children may write down up to 2 words that they would like to clarify on a whiteboard. |
| After reading (10 minutes) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Share good examples of reading strategies • Short written response (when indicated on planning) • Teacher selects a few words to clarify from the vocabulary children have written on whiteboards (modelling using dictionary if necessary). |

After reading- written response

There are 3 different types of short written responses.

1. a pupil written response e.g. I predict that... because... (written straight into KS2 Reading lesson books)

2. a test style question (see example below)

| Fact or Opinion Task | | |
|---|------|---------|
| Question: Using information from the text put a tick in the correct box to show whether the statement is a fact or an opinion . | | |
| | Fact | Opinion |
| Giant pandas are fascinating animals. | | |
| Giant pandas' main food in the wild is bamboo. | | |
| Giant panda cubs weigh about 150g when born. | | |

3. a vocabulary check on words (see example below)

| Vocabulary Check | |
|--|---|
| Draw lines to match each word or phrase to its meaning. One has been done for you. | |
| hedge | Organised and tidy as if in the army |
| possessions | A boundary made by bushes or shrubs |
| audacious | Things that belong or are owned by us e.g. clothes, toys, books |
| feats | A dog used for hunting |
| Military neatness | Being willing to take bold risks |
| hound | An achievement that requires courage skill or strength |

- The written responses should be recorded in the KS2 Reading lesson books.
- Templates and examples of short written responses can be found in Shared area- Reading- everything you need- KS2 reading- Written response resources
- The responses allow the children to apply the oral strategies from the lesson in writing.
- Written responses form the plenary of a DR lesson and should be directly linked to the discussions and strategies from the lesson. Children should spend no more than 5 minutes on short written responses.

Reading fluency lesson

Reading fluency can be defined as reading with accuracy, automaticity and prosody. Children are explicitly taught how to read with fluency through a weekly fluency lesson.

Structure of a reading fluency lesson:

Reading with fluency is a combination of reading with appropriate speed, expression and recognition of sentence punctuation. All elements of fluency must be modelled. When pupils read fluently, their cognitive resources can be redirected from focusing on decoding and onto comprehending a text.

| Modelling and Guided Practice | First Read <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Teacher displays text under the visualiser that has previously been read in Reading lessons.• Teacher models reading aloud with fluency, pointing to each word as they read.• Children follow the text on the screen as the teacher reads.• Teacher pauses to think aloud about their use of expression and recognition of sentence punctuation. Second Read <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Teacher models reading the same text again with fluency without pausing for think alouds.• Children follow the text on the screen as the teacher reads. Third Read <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Children have the text in front of them.• Teacher models reading parts of the text aloud with fluency (1-2 sentences).• Children have their own copy of the text and echo read (reading aloud copying the teacher's model), pointing to the words as they read. |
| Independent Practice | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Children have their own copy of the text.• Partner A reads the whole passage aloud, pointing to each word as they read.• Partner B listens and follows along, pointing to the text as their partner reads.• Partner B supports their partner with reading with fluency (reminders re. appropriate speed, expression, recognition of sentence punctuation).• Partner B supports their partner with reading tricky words.• Partners swap and Partner B reads the same passage with fluency.• Teacher listens in and provides feedback to correct mistakes, re-models where necessary, gives specific praise. |
| After reading | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Teacher chooses pupils to share good examples of reading aloud with fluency. |

Teaching comprehension skills

- Reading comprehension skills are taught as part of KS2 Reading lessons.
- The children also have a discrete comprehension lesson once a week using both familiar and unseen texts.

Weekly comprehension lessons (45 minutes)

Comprehension is taught weekly in KS2 Reading lessons. Friday comprehension lessons are 45 minutes long to allow for thinking aloud; oral responses by talk partners; modelling of written answers and independent practice.

Questions should be written with specific strategies in mind. This is an opportunity to combine strategies, rather than just the focus on the strategy for that week.

Structure of a comprehension lesson:

There are 2 types of comprehension lesson.

1. Teacher written comprehension questions based on the Reading lesson text read that week.
2. Unseen text comprehension questions using class comprehension resources.

| 1. Teacher written comprehension questions based on the Reading lesson text read that week. | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Teacher models answering comprehension questions using the steps to success. Steps to Success Remember to: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Read the text (using a ruler)2. Read the question.3. Find the part of the text that helps you.4. Say the answer in a sentence using a sentence stem from the strategy prompt card.5. Write the answer in a sentence using the sentence stem. |
| 2. Unseen text comprehension questions using class comprehension resources. | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• For unseen texts, the sentence stems may sometimes be appropriate to model using to answer the questions but sometimes the question won't always match a specific sentence stem.• Teachers must use their professional judgement how to model answering questions on unseen comprehensions.• In Year 6, children should read the unseen text independently, using a ruler under each line as they read to improve speed. Use a timer on the board for 5 minutes to aim to finish reading in this time. Teachers must use their professional judgement and knowledge of the mark schemes in how to model answering questions on SATs style questions. |

| | Steps to Success Remember to: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Read the text using a ruler line by line (using a ruler)2. Summarise the main ideas in the text aloud.3. Read the question.4. Find the part of the text that helps you.5. Write the answer. |

Teaching reading fluency with non-fiction texts

During a reading fluency lesson, children should not be focusing on how to read the text with fluency, rather than working out the meaning of the words.

In order to reduce cognitive load, prior to starting the fluency lesson the teacher may decide to:

- Retrieval practice of tier 3 vocabulary previously taught in reading strategies lesson found within that lesson's text
- Retrieval of information from text read in previous lessons. E.g. What did we learn about Ancient Egyptian writing when we read this last week?
- Ask children to orally summarise (use visuals and key words to support) OR teacher orally summarises

NB: KS2 Reading lessons are aimed at children reading at Silver level and above. SEN children, who cannot access these texts, will have daily phonics interventions with support staff following the Phonics Weekly Structure.

Daily Story Time – fostering a love of reading

All classes have daily Story Time. The books for Story Time have been selected from the CLPE Literature Collection. They are designed to introduce children to a growing range of texts and to be read daily to the class by the class teacher.

Story time is important because it gives children access to a wider range of titles, authors and genres that they might otherwise meet. Pupils are encouraged to be interested in books, read with enjoyment, and evaluate and justify their reading preferences.

Books have been chosen for story time as they meet one or more of the following criteria:

- texts that are multi-layered - capable of being read at different levels
- books that deal with important themes
- books in which language is used in lively, inventive ways
- books by skilful and experienced children's writers and illustrators
- traditional and contemporary 'classics' of children's literature
- stories with different cultural settings
- texts that promote discussion and reflection

Developing independent reading

Home/school reading arrangements

All children take home reading books they have read in class that week or in previous weeks, so that they are able to read them independently.

Children also choose a 'sharing book' each week to take home alongside reading books at their level. The 'sharing book' may be above their reading level and is designed to be shared with an adult or a more able reader.

The 'sharing book' helps to foster a love of reading because it is chosen by the child and is linked to their own interests. The 'sharing book' may be fiction, non-fiction or poetry. In each reading record, there is a notice for parents, explaining which books they can expect their children to bring home and how often.

Children at the early stages of reading (Reception-Y2):

In the first half of the Autumn term, Reception children take home a sharing book (see below) each week.

Phonic-based books start to go home at the start of the second half of the Autumn term once children have completed phonics speed sounds lessons.

Reception children take home 4 books each week:

- 1 sharing book (a book from the class library to share with an adult or more able reader. This is a book that the child has chosen which is linked to their interests. It may well be a text that is too difficult for them to read alone)

- 1 Read, Write, Inc. storybook (the book that the child has read in Phonics lessons that week)
- 2 Read Write Inc. guided reading books (the book that the child has read in Guided Reading lessons that week + RWI guided reading book from the previous week)

Y1-Y2 children who have daily phonics lessons take home 4 books each week:

- 1 sharing book (a book from the class library to share with an adult or more able reader. This is a book that the child has chosen which is linked to their interests. It may well be a text that is too difficult for them to read alone)
- 1 Read, Write, Inc. storybook (the book that the child has read in Phonics lessons that week)
- 2 Read Write Inc. guided reading books (the book that the child has read in Guided Reading lessons that week + RWI guided reading book from the previous week)

Y2 children who are proficient at phonics (read all phonic-based books up to the end of Grey level) take home 3 books:

- 1 sharing book (a book from the class library to share with an adult or more able reader. This is a book that the child has chosen which is linked to their interests. It may well be a text that is too difficult for them to read alone)
- 2 colour-banded guided reading books- Silver, Emerald, Ruby, Sapphire books only (the colour-banded book that the child has read in Guided Reading lessons that week + the colour-banded guided reading book that they read the previous week)

Y3 children who are reading phonic-based books take home 4 books:

- 1 sharing book (a book from the class library to share with an adult or more able reader. This is a book that the child has chosen which is linked to their interests. It may well be a text that is too difficult for them to read alone)
- 1 Read, Write, Inc. storybook (at the appropriate level)
- 2 Read Write Inc. guided reading book (corresponding book to the storybook from the appropriate level- see Reception and KS1 progression in reading- list of Read Write Inc. phonics reading books + RWI guided reading book from the previous week)

Y3-Y6 children reading Silver, Emerald, Ruby and Sapphire colour-banded books take home 3 books:

- 1 sharing book (a book from the class library to share with an adult or more able reader. This is a book that the child has chosen which is linked to their interests. It may well be a text that is too difficult for them to read alone)
- 2 colour banded home reader books (at the appropriate level of difficulty- Silver, Emerald, Ruby or Sapphire-1 new book + 1 book previously read)

Y3-Y6 fluent readers take home 2 books:

- 1 sharing book (a book from the class library to share with an adult or more able reader. This is a book that the child has chosen which is linked to their interests. It may well be a text that is too difficult for them to read alone)
- 1 chapter book (chosen from the class library under the guidance of a teacher)

Y6 children take home 3 books:

- 1 sharing book (a book from the class library to share with an adult or more able reader. This is a book that the child has chosen which is linked to their interests. It may well be a text that is too difficult for them to read alone)
- 1 chapter book (chosen from the class library under the guidance of a teacher)
- Class novel (children are set pages to read each day after school by their teacher)

Fluent readers record their reading in their reading record independently – the date of reading, title of the novel and how many pages they have read. This record is monitored by the class teacher regularly to check the amount read by the child and suitable choice of book.

For example:

| Date: | Book title: | Pages read: |
|--------------|--------------------|--------------------|
| 03.09.24 | The London Mystery | 1-8 |
| 04.09.24 | The London Mystery | 9-12 |
| 05.09.24 | The London Mystery | 13-20 |

In each reading record, there is a notice for parents explaining which books they can expect their children to bring home and how often. Parents sign the reading record each week to show children are reading at home.

Reading books reminder...

Children must bring their book bags in to school with their reading books every day.

Your children have some books to read aloud with an adult at their reading level. They will also have a sharing book (SB). The sharing book may be a bit tricky for them to read and should be shared with parents/ carers.

In Reception, Y1, Y2, Y3 & Y4 books are changed weekly.

In Y5 and Y6 books may be changed every week or every 2 weeks depending on the length of the books read.

Please write your initials in this book to tell us that your child is reading at home.

Please find time to read with your child every day. It makes a HUGE difference. 😊

Assessing levels of attainment in reading

- Reception- Y2 children are assessed every half term using the Read Write Inc. assessments (On Entry, Assessment 1, Assessment 2, Assessment 3)
- Reception-Y2 teachers assess reading fluency and comprehension during Phonics lessons and Reading Practice lessons.
- Y1 – Year 6 children are assessed during the assessment windows using the 'Reading assessment statements'
- Y3- Y6 teachers assess reading fluency and comprehension during KS2 Reading lessons.
- Year 6 children are assessed monthly using previous years reading comprehension SATs papers. Assessment judgements are made using the KS2 Interim Framework statements for reading.

End of year expected standards for reading YR-Y6

- In Reception- Y2 children read phonic-based books (Read, Write Inc. Storybooks/guided reading books)
- The chart below shows the end of year expected standard for reading using phonic-based books e.g. by the end of Reception, children should be reading phonic-based books at 'Green level' to be at expected standard, by the end of Y1 children should be reading phonic-based books at 'Blue level' to be at expected standard.

| Year Group | If the children are at Age Related Expectation, they will be using these phonic-based books (Read Write Inc.) throughout the year | End of year expected standard |
|------------|---|-------------------------------|
| Reception | Red Green Purple | Green |
| Year 1 | Green Purple Pink Orange Yellow Blue Grey | Blue |
| Year 2 | Blue Grey | Grey |

- Once children are proficient at phonics (completed Grey level phonic-based books), they read colour-banded books in order to further develop fluency of reading.
- The colour bands below match the PM Benchmark assessment toolkit colour bands. We use the PM Benchmark toolkit to assess which colour band books children should be reading (i.e. appropriate level).
- The chart below shows the end of year expected standard for reading for Y2-Y6 e.g. by the end of Y2 children should be reading books at Silver/Emerald colour bands to be at expected standard, by the end of Y3 children should be reading books at Ruby colour bands to be at expected standard.

| End of year expected standard | Colour Band | PM Benchmark kit book level |
|---|-------------|-----------------------------|
| End of Year 2 Expected standard (level 23-26) | Silver | Level 23 Level 24 |
| | Emerald | Level 25 Level 26 |
| End of Year 3 Expected standard (level 27-28) | Ruby | Level 27 Level 28 |
| End of Year 4 Expected standard (level 29-30) | Sapphire | Level 29 Level 30 |

Fluent readers read chapter books selected from the class library under the guidance of the class teacher. Children in Y5 and Y6 are assessed against the 'Reading Assessment Statements' for their year group. Children who have met all the statements by the end of the year are reading at expected standard for their year group.

Teaching writing

Implementation of our writing curriculum

The implementation of our English curriculum is greatly supported by carefully structured unit plans, leading pupils through component knowledge and skills to composite knowledge and skills in all subjects.

Our pedagogical approach is based on Rosenshine's Principles of Direct Instruction. The brilliant clarity and simplicity of this approach supports teachers to engage with cognitive science and the wider world of educational research.

The Principles of Direct Instruction

1. Daily Review
2. Present new material using small steps
3. Ask questions
4. Provide models
5. Guide student practice
6. Check for student understanding
7. Obtain a high success rate
8. Provide scaffolds for difficult tasks
9. Independent practice
10. Weekly and monthly review

In our schools, there is a strong emphasis on the teaching of writing. The English curriculum has been developed to ensure high quality texts are used to enable children to produce good writing.

The writing genre, book titles and writing outcomes are specified on the curriculum maps. The writing outcomes ensure that the teachers are very clear on what the children need to produce at the end of every week.

An overview of each unit (unit plan) gives the teacher a clear outline of the progression of lessons.

What a week of English teaching looks like

Monday – Reading comprehension – lessons are linked to text (i.e. immersion into the text, role play, drama, responding to a text, identifying features of a text).

Tuesday- Reading comprehension – lessons are linked to text (i.e. immersion into the text, role play, drama, responding to a text, identifying features of a text).

Wednesday- Writing - vocabulary, grammar and punctuation (see section on grammar).

Thursday- Writing composition - planning

Friday- Writing composition - writing and editing.

The following text types are taught throughout the year:

- REC: Instructions (recipes)/ Recounts (retelling stories, things they have done)/ Narrative writing and made up stories.

- KS1: Narrative – retelling stories, writing in role, writing sequels to stories, descriptive writing, poetry and comics. Non-fiction- author studies, newspaper reports, report writing and instructions.

-KS2: Narrative – retelling stories, writing in role, descriptive writing, writing extended versions of stories, writing prequels, poetry, diary entries, action and adventure stories. Non-fiction – persuasive texts, letters, discursive texts, reports, explanations, recounts and emails.

Alan Peat- Children are taught Alan Peat 'Super Sentences'. The sentences help children to use a wide variation of sentence types and punctuation in their writing.

Outline of a planning lesson

KS1 planning lesson

(Year 3 begin the year using the KS1 model and move onto the KS2 by the Summer Term)

- Teachers refer to English unit plans to know how the plan should be structured
- Children plan on a 6 box planning template.
- The planning template already has pictures on it where possible, or children draw quick stick figures. The lines for children to write key words are the largest part of each box.

Retrieval practice

- The teacher asks questions about the text or the text type that activates prior knowledge e.g. 'What was the first thing that happened in the story?' 'What are the features of a diary entry?'
- The teacher asks questions about vocabulary previously taught which may be used in the lesson.

Modelling

- The teacher models the process of looking at the picture and using to think alouds to explain what they are going to write e.g. 'I am going to describe what the character looks like in box 1'.
- The teacher uses 'think alouds' to model thinking of ideas using:
 - ideas collected from previous English lessons that week
 - vocabulary from the text
 - vocabulary for the vocabulary wall
 - vocabulary from word banks
- The teacher says the words aloud before writing, modelling using Fred Fingers to segment words for spelling.
- The teacher models using a sound mat to find the sounds needed and then writes the words on the plan.
- The teacher models copying words from the vocabulary wall.

- The teacher models checking the spellings using sound mat/vocabulary wall.
- The teacher models writing directly onto the planning template under the visualiser.
- The teacher models making mistakes, which allows the teacher to check for understanding and to address how to correct mistakes.

Adding a super sentence to the plan (see 'School partnership Grammar and Punctuation guide').

Where appropriate, children may add a super sentence to their plan using the following process:

- The teacher reminds children of the features of the sentence
- The teacher models orally composing the sentence ('pulling the sentence out of their mouth')
- The teacher models writing the sentence, sounding out words, using word walls/banks.
- The teacher models the process of checking and editing the sentence.

Pupil guided and independent practice

- Children complete their own plan- the teacher may decide to do this one box/paragraph at a time.
- Children are provided with sound mats and word banks where appropriate.

KS2 planning lesson

- Teachers refer to English unit plans to know how the plan should be structured
- Children plan straight into their English books
- The plan is set out in paragraphs
- Key words and phrases are written in each paragraph
- A few super sentences can also be added to the plan

Retrieval practice

- The teacher asks questions about the text or the text type that activates prior knowledge e.g. 'Where is the story set?' 'What are the features of a diary entry?'
- The teacher asks questions about vocabulary previously taught which may be used in the lesson.

Modelling

- The teacher models the process of identifying what the paragraph should be about and uses 'think alouds' to explain what they are going to write e.g. 'I am going to describe the setting in my first paragraph.'
- The teacher uses 'think alouds' to model thinking of ideas using:
 - ideas collected from previous English lessons that week
 - vocabulary from the text
 - vocabulary for the vocabulary wall
 - vocabulary from word banks
- The teacher says the words aloud before writing, modelling using phonics and spelling rules
- The teacher models using a sound chart to find the sounds needed (if necessary) and then writes the words on the plan.
- The teacher models writing directly into an exercise book under the visualiser.

- The teacher models the exact layout that the children need to reproduce in their books.
- The teacher models making mistakes, which allows the teacher to check for understanding and to address how to correct mistakes.

Adding a super sentence to the plan (see 'School partnership Grammar and Punctuation guide').

Where appropriate, children may add a super sentence to their plan using the following process:

- The teacher reminds children of the features of the sentence
- The teacher models orally composing the sentence ('pulling the sentence out of their mouth')
- The teacher models writing the sentence, sounding out words, using word walls/banks.
- The teacher models the process of checking and editing the sentence.

Pupil guided and independent practice

- Children complete their own plan- the teacher may decide to do this one box/paragraph at a time.
- Children are provided with sound mats and word banks where appropriate.

Outline of a writing lesson

Retrieval practice

- The teacher activates prior knowledge about the text or the text type needed for the lesson.
- The teacher displays a completed plan from the previous lesson under the visualiser
- The teacher talks through the plan or asks children to talk through their plan with their partner.

Modelling

- The teacher displays and discusses the 'steps to success' (success criteria outlined in English unit plans)
- The teacher displays a pre-written high quality first sentence(s) under the visualiser alongside 'steps to success'.
- The teacher uses 'think alouds' to explain how the key words from the plan have been turned into a sentence(s)
- The teacher talks through the success criteria with the children and gets the children to identify where the 'steps' have been met
- The teacher models turning key words from the plan into sentences using 'think alouds'. E.g. "I have used the word 'mysterious' in my plan to describe the setting, I'm going to use that in my next sentence."
- The teacher models orally composing the sentence ('pulling the sentence out of their mouth')
- The teacher says the words aloud before writing and models:
 - using phonics

- using spelling rules
- using grammar rules taught in the grammar lesson that week
- The teacher models writing directly into an exercise book under the visualiser.
- The teacher models the exact layout that the children need to reproduce in their books.
- The teacher models writing sentences using:
 - key words from plan
 - word walls
 - taught spelling rules
 - taught grammar rules
 - correct letter formation and joins practised in handwriting lessons.
- The teacher models how to tick off ideas in the plan once they have been included in sentences.
- The teacher models making mistakes, which allows them to check for understanding and to address how to correct mistakes.

Independent and guided practice

- Children complete their own writing in their English book.
- The modelled writing is covered over (the first sentence can be left in order if the children need this to get them started)
- The teacher/support staff may work with a focus group to continue to model and support children with the process of orally composing sentences ('pulling them out of their mouths')
- The teacher circulates the classroom assessing the children's work and identifying misconceptions.
- Misconceptions are addressed through mini-plenaries. Children's work is displayed under the visualiser in order to do this. Children are asked to check their own writing for the misconception and edit/improve where necessary.
- The children are regularly asked to read their work aloud to themselves and self-assess against the 'steps to success' in order to see what they need to do to improve when they continue writing again.

Plenary

- The teacher may decide to display a child's work and get the rest of the class to mark it against the success criteria and then improve it together.
- The teacher may choose to re-teach an area where misconceptions are still arising.
- The teacher may choose to teach the children something new in order to move their learning forward.

Developing independence in everyday writing

- Teach children to sound out words.
- Teach children to use sound and word mats and super sentences mats.
- Teach children to use working walls to support them.
- Teach children to write during 'bursts of silence'.
- Teach children to focus on the success criteria when writing.
- Teach children to self-assess against success criteria.
- Teach children to use punctuation marks
- Teach children to write different sentence types (we call these 'super sentences') through Alan Peat materials.

Using working walls to support writing

- Each class has a writing display showing the grammar children are expected to be using in that year group.
- Teachers may display 'writing prompts' of what children should remember to do to be independent writers.
- Teachers write good models of handwritten work and display on walls.

Assessing pupils' level of attainment in writing.

- Teacher's level writing against the fundamentals during guided writing sessions. This work is mainly aided. Teachers write a 'fix it' comment on the children's work. This is something the child has been asked to correct. The children respond to this comment during 'fix it' time.
- Twice a year, before Pupil Progress Checkpoint meetings with the Head of school and Assistant Head, class teachers assess writing
- A portfolio of levelled pieces is kept to help with this
- All teachers attend a partnership moderation, where writing samples are discussed and levelled
- More experienced members of staff coach less experienced members of staff, and each meeting is chaired by a Head of School and English Lead.

Teaching vocabulary and the use of vocabulary walls

There is strong evidence that larger vocabulary correlates with higher academic attainment – not just in English but in all subjects. Conversely, a smaller vocabulary correlates with lower academic attainment. It also correlates with success in gaining employment. Therefore, in our schools we place a strong emphasis on the importance of teaching vocabulary in order to give our children the best life chances.

When is vocabulary taught?

Vocabulary is taught in every lesson. It is not a separate or additional lesson.

How many words are taught per week?

There is no limit to how many words teachers should teach. Research has shown that to have any impact on closing the vocabulary gap then children must be learning at least 10 new words per week.

What words should you choose to explicitly teach?

There are three tiers of words (see diagram below). Teachers mainly teach Tier 2 words.

- These are words that are rarely used in everyday speech by children and more often found in writing e.g. meander, despise, endure, hilarious
- They can be used across contexts e.g. erupt, emerge
- They may have multiple meanings e.g. novel, season, draft, current
- They may be specific synonyms e.g. chortle rather than laugh, trudge rather than walk slowly

Vocabulary Instruction

Choosing Words to Teach

Tier III

High frequency, occur across contexts. More common in writing than in everyday speech.
Explicit teaching needed.
eg. Endure, despise, arrange, erupt

Tier II words are high-frequency words that occur across contexts. These words are used by mature language users and are more common in writing than in everyday speech. Tier II words are important for students to know to enhance comprehension of a selected text. Tier II words the best words for targeted explicit vocabulary instruction.
Examples: hilarious, endure, despise, arrange, compare, contrast

Tier I

Tier I words are the words we use everyday in our speech. These words are typically learned through conversation. These are common words that rarely require direct instruction.
Examples: come, see, happy, table

How is vocabulary explicitly taught?

Every class (Y1-Y6) has a vocabulary word wall at the front of the classroom, which does not have a title as this wastes space.

Teachers have lots of pre-prepared rectangular cards to write words on kept in a plastic pocket that hangs off their vocabulary wall. These pieces of card are large to allow for the teacher to write large enough for children at the back to be able to read the vocabulary easily.

When planning lessons, teachers may choose words to explicitly teach. However, words will also come up when reading as a class, during lesson, when children ask for words to be clarified, when watching video clips etc.

Once the teacher has identified a word to teach, they use the following strategies to 'Walk the word':

Say the word - teacher pronounces clearly, children repeat. "My turn, your turn". (Further repetitions can be to whisper the word, use a low voice, high voice etc.)

Clap the word – teacher claps the syllables of the word while saying it out loud. Children repeat.

Define the word – teacher explains the meaning in child friendly language. The teacher will refer to root words/ words within words/ similar words where possible.

Act it out – teacher acts out the word where possible e.g. Trudge – walk slowly, dragging your feet with slumped posture

Say it in a sentence – teacher says the word in a simple sentence. They use the Collins Cobuild Primary Dictionary to help with this – this gives a sentence for every word. E.g. She endured great pain in her life.

Write it –The teacher writes it LARGE and clear on one of the rectangular pieces of card and puts it up in the middle of the vocabulary wall using white-tac. Teachers pick one colour to write vocabulary in each week. The colour is changed at the start of the next week in order to clearly identify the new vocabulary being taught that week.

What happens to the words that have already put in the middle of the vocabulary wall?

At the end of the week, these words can be moved to the outer edge of the vocabulary wall to make space for new words to be added to the middle the next week.

What happens when the vocabulary wall is full?

When the vocabulary wall becomes too full, words are removed starting from the older ones on the outer edge. These words are kept in a folder which is also hanging from the vocabulary wall. Words have to be encountered many times for them to stick in long term memory, so every so often the teacher goes back to words that were previously on the vocabulary wall and revisits them – “Tell your partner what this word means...put it in a sentence...show an action etc.”.

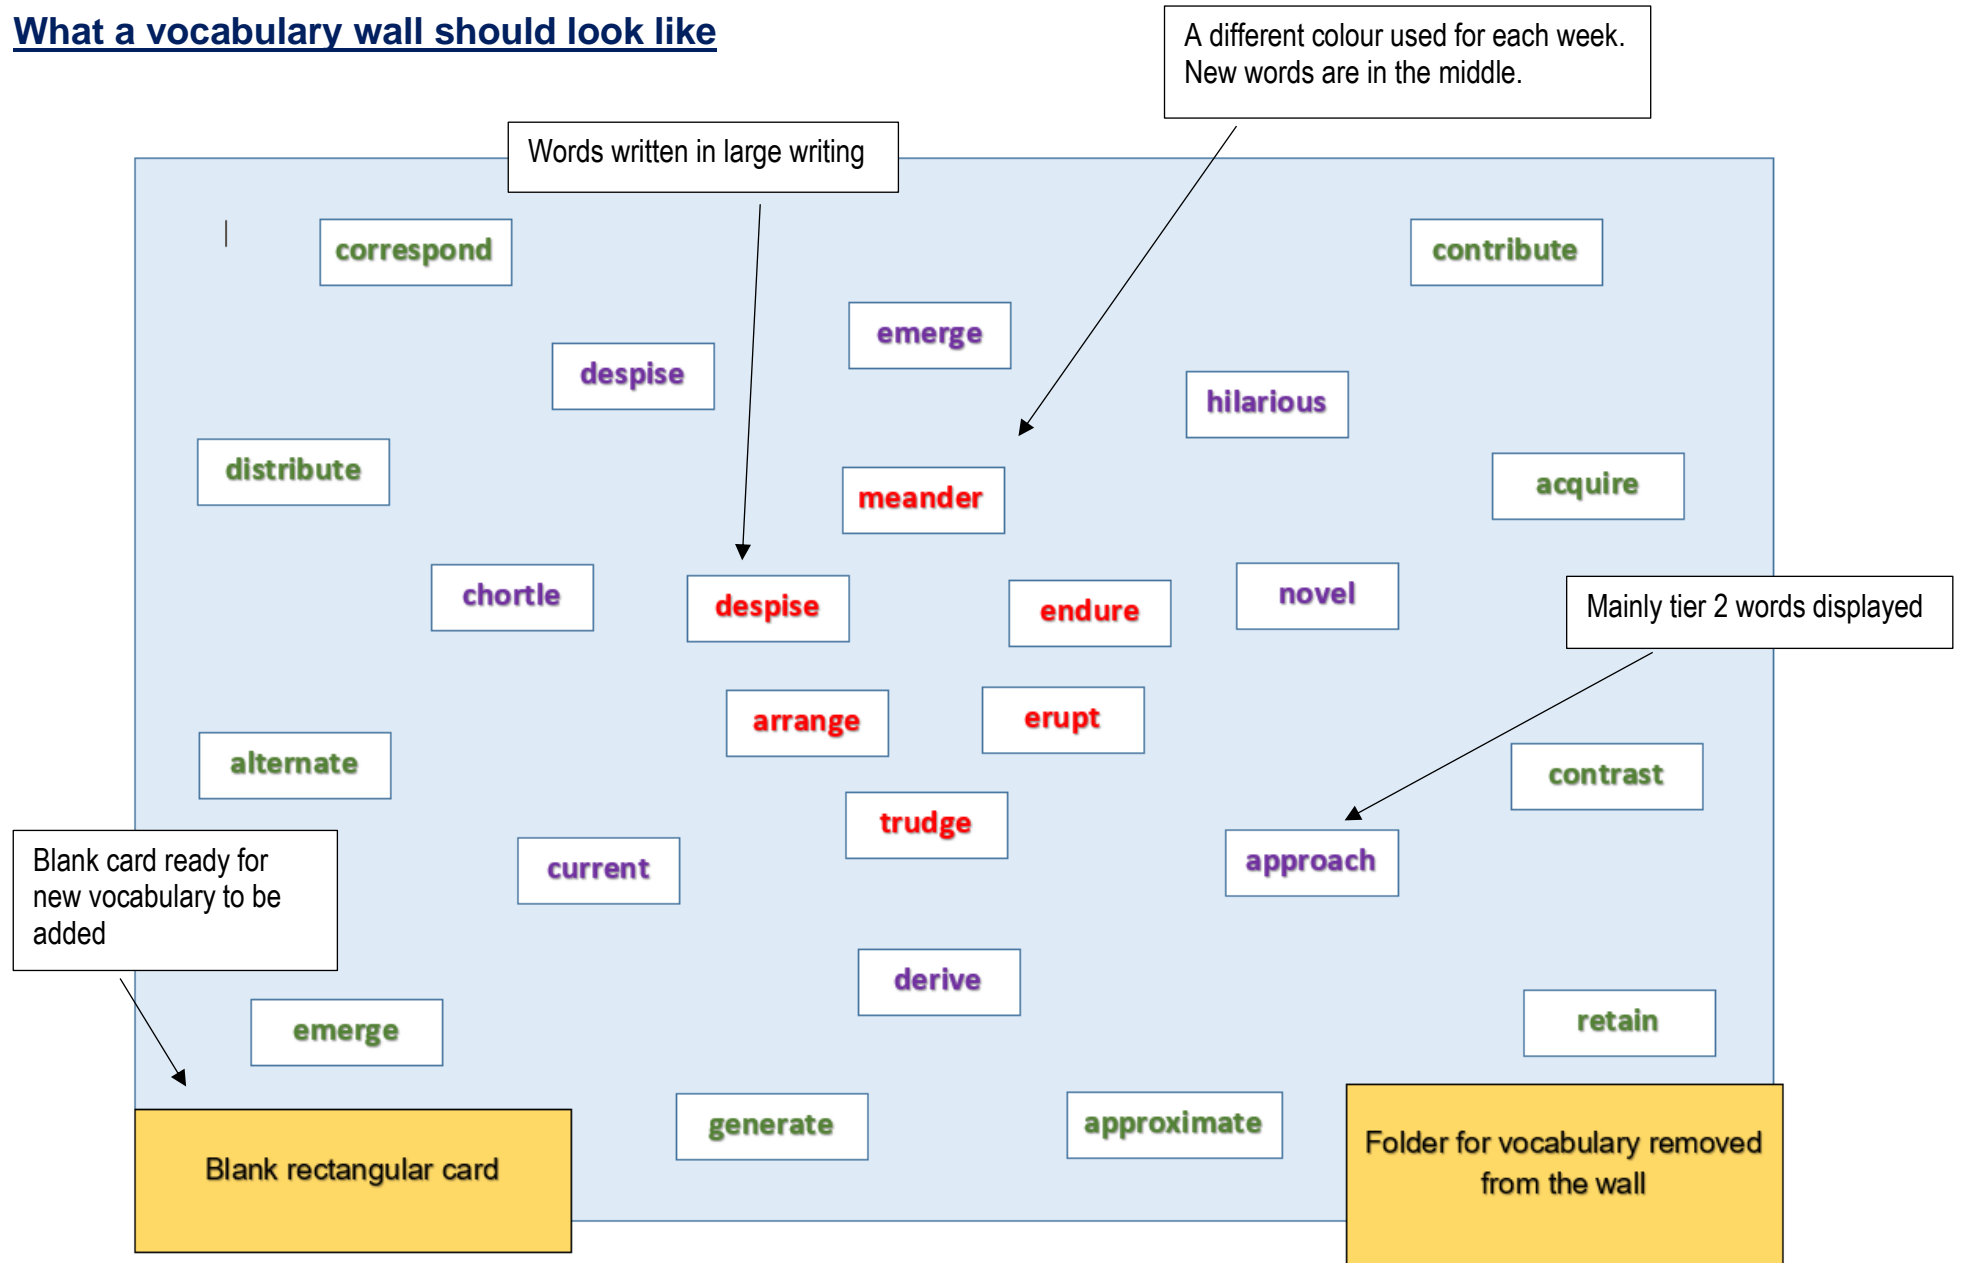

How do teachers get children to start using the words?

Teachers make a huge fuss about children using these words in their speech, in their writing and recognising it in their independent reading. They give out smiles whenever they hear a child use a word from the vocabulary wall or read it in their writing. Teacher use early morning work to revisit words – put the words up on the IWB, quiz children on the definition; ask them to put them into sentences etc.

How much time does teacher vocabulary take within a lesson?

Vocabulary is taught quickly and with minimal discussion, as spending a long time disrupts the pace of a lesson. Teachers are selective in choosing words- it is not possible to teach every word that comes up.

What a vocabulary wall should look like

Teaching spelling skills

Spelling teaching

The teaching of spelling is very important throughout primary school. Some children can rote learn spellings but most children find it far easier to learn them when spelling rules are explicitly taught. Our spelling curriculum ensures full coverage of the Y1-Y6 National Curriculum and enables pupils to become fluent and confident in their spelling.

Discreet spelling lessons:

- 1 spelling lesson per week
- Each lesson focuses on a particular spelling rule (often linked to phonics), enabling children to understand and apply this rule in their reading and writing.
- The lesson focuses on a group of words that exemplify that rule.
- The spelling guidance is based on the National Curriculum for English
- Teacher uses spelling guidance to help plan spelling lessons (Spelling – everything you need)
- Children practise spelling patterns and rules on whiteboards in weekly spelling lessons
- Children take home and learn the words they have been taught in lessons and are tested weekly.

Spelling lesson structure:

- Assess: Lessons starts with a test of the previous week's spellings. These are marked and recorded in the class assessment books. Recording marks allows the teacher to track children's progress and speak to parents when a child is not practising their spellings regularly. Children should be expected to score eight or more on the tests if they have practised effectively.
- Review: Teacher looks at the Year Overview (in each year group's file), asks the children to spell three words that they have previously learnt. Teacher reminds them of the spelling rules relating to each of these spellings.
- Teach: Teacher uses the PowerPoint to teach the children the current week's spellings. Ensure all children understand the meaning of the words they are learning.
- Practise: Children will be given the spellings in their homework to practise in preparation for the next week's test.

SEND children

- In order to differentiate appropriately for children who are working below their year group, teachers can use the resources from younger year groups. While the class are having their spelling lesson, interventions for children working below can be run in small groups.

Developing independent spelling in everyday writing for emergent spellers:

- Teachers avoid 'giving' children the spelling
- Children are taught to 'sound out' their words using their phonics
- Children are taught to look for and use words around the room
- Children are taught use word banks
- Children are taught use 'magic lines'

Developing independent spelling in everyday writing for more confident spellers:

- Use all the above strategies
- Children are taught to use simple dictionaries

The use of the spelling test:

REC: We expect the children to begin to learn the 100 high frequency words and common blends. These words are learnt in school and lists are also given to take home. Children are tested 1:1 on these words throughout the year.

Y1/Y2: Weekly spelling lessons where children are taught the rules outlined in the National Curriculum. Spelling patterns and conventions are also taught as part of writing sessions and during phonics teaching. We expect the children to learn 100 high frequency words, common blends and long vowel sounds. Lists of these words are given weekly for homework and then tested, 10 at a time. These spellings are differentiated according to attainment levels.

KS2: Spelling patterns and conventions are taught during spelling lessons and as part of writing sessions according to what is expected in the National Curriculum for English. Children are taught the words outlined in the statutory word lists outlined in the National Curriculum. These lessons are timetabled in years 4, 5 and 6. Children take home 10 words for homework every week. Children are tested on these spellings weekly. Spelling patterns and rules are taught.

NB: If spelling becomes an issue in a year group, senior leaders may make the decision to put in a whole class intervention spelling programme.

Assessing spelling:

- Children are given weekly spelling tests in Y1-Y6.
- Children correct and practise spellings they have got wrong in their writing at least once a week.

Using working walls to support spelling

- Children use banks of words to support spelling e.g. synonyms for nice/said, common word lists/ lists of connectives/ lists of sentence openers.

Teaching handwriting

All adults in the school must provide a good model of handwriting at all times.

In Foundation Stage and Key Stage 1 children are taught:

- The correct pencil grip.
- Correct formation of lower case and capital letters.

- During Year 1, teachers take responsibility for letter formation and should ensure that children are able to form all letters correctly in preparation for Year 2.
- In Year 2, the children will learn the main joins between letters.
- By the end of year 2 children will use joined up handwriting.

Reception, Y1, Y2 and Y3 children use pencil for all writing.

In Key Stage 2 children continue to develop their handwriting skills:

- To ensure consistency in size and proportion of letters and the spacing between letters and words.
- To build up handwriting speed, fluency and legibility.
- To use joined handwriting in all writing except where other special forms are required (e.g. printing on a map).

ALL children in Year 4 write in pen from the beginning of the year in all subjects except maths.

How children are taught handwriting

- The Andrew Brodie handwriting scheme is used throughout the school – teachers and support staff refer to it when writing themselves.
- This is used in key stage two to ensure that the teaching of handwriting is consistent.
- In key stage one, handwriting is taught in Phonics lessons using Read Write Inc. handwriting resources.
- All year groups have one discreet handwriting lesson timetabled once a week where the teacher MODELS how to form letters and joins.
- Every child from Year 1 upwards has a handwriting book in which they record their handwriting practise.
- Writing lessons should be used to give further opportunities to model good handwriting.

Some children may need extra time to practise their handwriting, and early morning work can be used for this, with an adult supporting. In some cases, it may be appropriate to give some children in Key Stage 2 handwriting homework.

Handwriting and children on the SEN/D register

Some children may need extra support in handwriting. If a teacher has concerns they need to meet up with the SENCO to discuss the child in question. The SENCO may suggest that the child needs extra handwriting support.

Teaching grammar

How and when is grammar taught?

From Year 1 to Year 6 grammar is taught weekly. The grammar lesson is organised in the following way:

- Part 1 – Addressing grammatical misconceptions following the writing lesson. The misconceptions that the children have are addressed in this part of the lesson. The teacher highlights these misconceptions to the class and teaches the relevant grammar rule. The children then practise examples on mini white boards.
- Part 2 – Teach a discrete grammar point – The teacher uses the resources Rising Stars Grammar, Spelling and Punctuation Teachers Book to plan and deliver lessons. The teacher should decide which grammar point to teach the class this week, depending on the text type being taught. Sometimes the text type might not go with the grammar point. Some grammar lessons may be taught using mini whiteboards. Any grammar work done on writing frames should be stuck into English books (Y1-Y5). Year 6 children should complete grammar work in separate Grammar books.

Grammar homework

From Year 2 upwards, grammar homework linked to the grammar lesson will be incorporated into homework when appropriate.

Grammar rules taught in grammar lessons are then referred to in English lessons and other areas of the curriculum. Children are regularly asked to spot the rule within a text, identify the rule within a super sentence and correct misconceptions.

School Partnership Grammar and Punctuation guide

This guidance has been created using the National Curriculum for English (2014) and sets out the grammar and punctuation expectations for each year group. It is linked to the school's Alan Peat resource 'Writing Exciting Sentences \(Book 1\)' and 'A Second Book of Exciting Sentences \(Book 2\)' which should be used as part of the teacher's modelled and shared writing sessions to teach some of the grammar and punctuation objectives. The Alan Peat Super Sentences will not teach every aspect of the grammar and punctuation expectations in the National Curriculum but does provide a structure in which content can be applied in writing. Spellings and word structure vocabulary by year group are all included in the National Curriculum appendix.

Year 3-4 Grammar and Punctuation

NB Grammar should be taught explicitly at this stage and pupils should be taught the terminology and concepts. They should be able to apply these concepts correctly to real-life language examples. Ensure that pupils start to learn about some of the differences between Standard English and non-Standard English and begin to apply what they have learnt, for example, in writing dialogue for characters.

Recitation of poetry

Recitation is taught:

- From YR – Y6 children are taught to recite and learn poems off by heart.
- Children will learn 6 poems every year, one poem every term.
- Each class will then perform these poems during an assembly once a term.

Which poems will be taught to recite?

Age appropriate poems have been chosen by the English leader for each year group.

How will recitation be taught?

At the start of every English lesson the poem for that term will be displayed on the whiteboard. The children will read through it with the teacher every day until they are able to recite it without needing to read it. Each class will then perform these poems during an assembly that term.

Recitation homework

Poems can be taken home so children can practise them.

Implementation of our curriculum

The implementation of our curriculum is greatly supported by carefully structured unit plans, leading pupils through component knowledge and skills to composite knowledge and skills in all subjects.

Our pedagogical approach is based on Rosenshine's Principles of Direct Instruction. The brilliant clarity and simplicity of this approach supports teachers to engage with cognitive science and the wider world of educational research.

The Principles of Direct Instruction

1. Daily Review
2. Present new material using small steps
3. Ask questions
4. Provide models
5. Guide student practice
6. Check for student understanding
7. Obtain a high success rate
8. Provide scaffolds for difficult tasks
9. Independent practice
10. Weekly and monthly review

Resources

English resources related to each year group should be stored in classrooms.

Lined exercise books (8mm)- Children in Y1-Y6 write directly into exercise books from the start of the year. Children in Reception write directly into exercise books from the Summer term.

Assessment

From Y1- Y6 children are assessed individually against the statutory outcomes for each year group. They are graded Below Expected Standard (Y?) Working towards Expected Standard Expected Standard Greater Depth. The reading and writing assessment statements can be found at the end of this policy document.

Staff training

Staff receive termly support and training through a programme of PDM's and 1-1 coaching opportunities, keeping their knowledge, skills and understanding up to date and relevant for delivering the curriculum.

New staff are given a mentor for 12 months.

Parent involvement

Through parents' meetings, the school newsletter and the school website parents are encouraged to support their children's learning in reading and writing.

The role of the English Leader

Subject leaders

- provide continuous professional development for staff
- monitor the quality of provision in the reading and writing curriculum and report to senior leaders
- monitor pupil outcomes in reading and writing and report to senior leaders
